2) Apply to Join Vision 2020 Strategic Plan Project Teams – Invitation Coming Next Week!

Vision 2020, the APPD strategic plan, captures the enthusiasm, energy and creativity of the diverse APPD membership and what we work to accomplish in pediatric graduate medical education. You are invited to actively participate in putting Vision 2020 into action. Please explore the different aspects of the plan and consider applying to participate in one of the Vision 2020 Project Teams.

Project Teams - organized under each of the four core components of Vision 2020

LOOK FOR ANNOUNCEMENT TO APPLY TO PROJECT TEAMS IN YOUR INBOX NEXT WEEK!

Project Team members will be selected by the Champion Teams and approved by the APPD Board of Directors. You may apply to more than one team, however, any selected members will only be assigned to one team.

Application Deadline will be November 21, 2016.

3) APPD Call for Nominations: Associate Editor - View from the APPD in Academic Pediatrics

The APPD Board is seeking nominations for the next Associate Editor of the View from the APPD pages for the journal Academic Pediatrics. As you know, Academic Pediatrics is the APA’s peer-reviewed journal. APPD would like to publish a thoughtful article in most issues of the journal that addresses a major educational issue of importance to our organization and to pediatric residency education. This position is also a major leadership opportunity because the Associate Editor for the View from the APPD works with the other journal editors to define and implement the strategic direction of the journal. This is a 3 year position, which is renewable for one additional consecutive term, allowing for other members to participate.

Call for Nominations - Associate Editor of the View from the APPD pages

If you are interested in serving as an Associate Editor for the View from the APPD pages, please submit your CV and a one page statement of your interest to info@appd.org by Monday, November 7, 2016.

4) APPD LEAD New Council Members Selected

The APPD LEAD Council is excited to announce two new Council members —Marsha Anderson, MD and Robert Vinci, MD.

Marsha Anderson, MD

Marsha is well known to many of us as the Associate Program Director at the University of Colorado pediatric residency program for over 10 years. She is the Assistant Dean for Longitudinal Curriculum at the University of Colorado and has held leadership positions within APPD as the Faculty and Professional Task Force Chair and co-developer of APPD's mentoring program. Marsha has served on the planning committee for both APPD and PAS national conferences. Her educational scholarship has focused on mentoring. Marsha was also an APPD LEAD Cohort 1 graduate!

Robert Vinci, MD

Bob is well known to many of us as the recent former Program Director at the Boston Combined Residency Program for Boston Medical Center for 20 years, Pediatric Emergency Medicine Fellowship Director for 8 years, and Chair at Boston Medical Center for 4 years. He has held leadership positions within APPD as a member of the APPD Board. In addition to local teaching awards, Bob was also the recipient of APPD's prestigious Robert S. Holm, MD, Leadership Award. His educational scholarship has included work on milestones, handovers, simulation, reducing medical errors, and research during residency, and he has been the Associate Editor for APPD pages for Academic Pediatrics.

We feel that Marsha and Bob will be outstanding additions to the Council, bringing their collaboration and experience in medical education leadership, national leadership, national educational workshops/presentations, academic and career mentorship, and educational scholarship mentorship to our team.

Parker J. Palmer Courage to Teach Award (awarded to program directors)

Susie Buchter, MD, Emory University (Pediatrics)

GME Program Coordinator Excellence Award

Thea Stranger-Najjar, University of Chicago (Pediatrics)

8) AAMC Standardized Video Interview – Research Study Expands to Pediatrics

The Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) has been conducting an IRB-approved research study with emergency medicine applicants to test the potential of the AAMC Standardized Video Interview as an additional tool in the residency application and selection process. Over the past few months, other specialties have expressed interest in collecting information about applicants' competencies and personal characteristics that will aid in decision-making.

We are expanding the research study to include three additional specialties; applicants applying to obstetrics and gynecology, pediatrics, and general surgery residency programs are now encouraged to volunteer. Additional data from these applicants will enable us to validate our interview questions and scoring rubric across different specialties and ensure that the Standardized Video Interview tool, if offered in the future, is appropriate for a broader user base.

As leaders in your community, we want to make you aware of this expansion, should applicants or others in your community approach you with questions. This research study requires no further action by you or your colleagues; and completion of the standardized video interview will have no bearing on a candidate's application to any residency programs. Please share this information with your colleagues in pediatrics, as appropriate. For more information, go to: www.aamc.org/standardizedvideointerview. Specific questions should be directed to residencyselection@aamc.org

Thank you for your assisting us with getting the word out to your colleagues.
